BARTON CHAMPIONS

Win Deadlock between Barre and Barton Monday at Barre.

As scheduled, Barton's crack baseball team went to Barre Saturday to play off the rubber game between the Barre Italian Athletic team and Barton, each team having won a game. The game was a fast and exciting one but neither team was able to down the other and the contest was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of rain and darkness, the score standing four and four as scored below. This of course only deepened the rivalry between the two teams and it was arranged to finish the contest Monday afternoon. Most of Barton's team remained over until Monday and on that day some 25 or 30 of Barton's fans journeyed to Barre to cheer for the boys. And it did the business—at least Barton took the game with comparative ease by the score of 4 to 2. The winning of this game gives Barton the state championship of independent teams and Barre readily concedes and admits that Barton can play ball after all.

In Monday's game Barton scored in the first and so did Barre, but Barre was unable to cross the home bag again until the last of the ninth while Barton got a man across again in the second, fifth and seventh, thus taking the lead in the first and keeping it throughout the game. As the score shows Barton outfielded and outbatted the Italians. To give our readers a little of the dope handed out by the local papers on the game we quote: "Barton lived up to its reputation of being a bunch of scrappy ball players that would never say die, and after being let down with three little hits Saturday, came back yesterday and hit Olsen hard. In the field they showed their hand, nothing was too hard for them. Taking the three games played here by them this year they have proved their right to the title of the best all-round team in the northern part of the state.

"Heath, the shortstop, and an old Goddard man, carried off the honors in the hitting line, getting three out of five, one a homer. In the field he also put up a swell game and saved many a hit for Smith by one-handed jabs. T. Lee in right probably saved the game in the ninth when he nabbed a line drive from Crappi's bat that looked like a three bagger when it left the bat. Lee got it about two inches from the ground and fell but came up with the ball in his mitt.

"Both teams scored once in the opener and in the second Barton forged into the lead never to surrender that position. Number two came around that inning on two hits and an error. They skipped two rounds but in the fifth pushed number three home. Heath hit and was sacrificed to second, went to third on an error by Giacomuzzi and home on a hit by B. Lee.

"In the seventh Heath clouted one by Scampine for a homer for the last run on the Barton side of the score book. "During this time I. A. C. had been drawing lemons, Smith having the goat of the local stickers. In the ninth Comolli came near duplicating his stunt of Saturday, when he saved the game in the eighth. He was the first man up this time as before and the ball when it stopped after being clouted a fearful crack, was in the same place, but Comolli could not or did not make as fast time yesterday as previously and stopped at third to score a minute later on a passed ball."

MAGAZINES GOING UP.

Recent consolidations and combines among the magazines have brought about a new regime in the subscription business and prices of a number of the standard magazines. A number of the magazines will be higher this fall, some of the publishers having already announced the date of the advance in price. For the benefit and convenience of the readers of the Monitor we have arranged a list of some of the leading magazines and the present prices at which they can be secured through the Monitor. Our advice to all is to make up your magazine lists early this year, whether you order through us or not. You will surely save money by it. Slip this list out and pin it up for convenient reference. We would be glad to quote prices on any order for magazines you may want. Write us your list. It is comparatively no extra labor or expense to handle magazine subscriptions while handling Monitor subscriptions and we can quote you the lowest possible price. The following prices are for new or renewals (except where otherwise specified) and may be sent to one or separate addresses. Write or call up the Orleans County Monitor office, Barton. The prices below are for both the Monitor and the Magazine named each one full year new or renewal.

AN IMPOSTER ARRESTED

Michael Barrett Arrested on Charge of Attempting to Impersonate a Dead Soldier and Get Pension.

The St. Johnsbury Republican says that Michael Barrett, who has been known in these parts for a year or two past, is in the Caledonia county jail awaiting the sitting of the federal grand jury at Rutland in October. He was arrested by Deputy U. S. Marshal Miles of Newport on a warrant issued by District Attorney Dunnett. He was taken before U. S. Commissioner Harry Blodgett in St. Johnsbury and bail fixed at $2,000 which he was unable to furnish and he was placed in jail. The charge against him is that he attempted to defraud the government by securing a pension.

The government investigation of the claim tends to show that Barrett went to St. Johnsbury about two years ago as a tramp, claiming to be Patrick Barrett, who was a member of the Third Vermont and who died Jan. 1, 1863. He represented to the

THOSE YEGGMEN.

Further particulars as to the story of the work and the arrest of the two yeggmens who were recently arrested near Newport, as mentioned in the Monitor last week, may be interesting. It seems that Vermont and New Hampshire have been set down in the map of the underworld as soft territory for the manipulators of fuse and jimmy and repeated successful breaks in this territory within the past few years show that easy prospects have been taken advantage of. The local officials have been keeping a pretty close tab on possible trouble of this kind and have been pretty well informed as to the whereabouts of suspicious characters. Their vigilance has been rewarded.

Several weeks ago a stranger came to McIndoes. Later another outsider put in an appearance. They did not advertise to be pals, but it was discovered that they took numerous excursions together. The officers kept track of them. One day the McIndoes boarders started for Boston. Sheriff Worthen and State's Attorney Simonds went to the Hub on the same train with them. In Boston the local officials were met by a representative of the Wood, Morgan detective agency

The annual meeting of the Barton Congregational society met on Monday evening pursuant to call and elected a president and clerk. The auditors not being ready to report, the meeting was adjourned to meet at the church vestry on Tuesday, September 26th at 7:30 o'clock p. m. to hear reports of officers and elect the remaining officers for the ensuing year; a full attendance is desired, of both ladies and gentlemen.

The first freeze came suddenly and with a vengeance Wednesday night, doing great damage to crops all over New England. The temperature went as low as 22 degrees. Never in the history of the weather bureau has

TWO FARM FIRES.

Fire Saturday evening destroyed the entire set of farm buildings belonging to H. N. Paquette, who lives in the west part of the town of Glover. A number of neighbors were making a call at Mr. Paquette's that evening by invitation to listen to a little musical entertainment by the Misses Paquette. The visiting teams to the number of five had been hitched in the barn and all were making merry when the barn was discovered on fire and had made such headway that it was impossible to save anything from the barn, the five horses and buggies of the visitors as well as two of Mr. Paquette's horses were burned. Mr. Paquette also lost nine cows, seven sheep and other stock in the fire, all his farming implements and barely had time to save a little household furniture. It is not known how the fire originated. The loss is placed at about $5000 with $2500 insurance.

On the same evening Arthur Williams in the town of Brownington near Evansville lost his barn by fire. With the barn were burned six cows, one horse, seven hogs and a quantity of farm tools. The fire started from a lantern which was left in the barn floor while chores were being done, and it is supposed it tipped over or exploded. The Monitor is unable to learn the estimated loss and insurance carried.

County Sabbath School Convention.

The Orleans County Sabbath School convention was held in the Congregational church at Coventry Thursday and Friday, Sept. 14 and 15. This is said to have been one of the largest and best conventions that has been held in the county for many years. The splendid hospitality of the people of Coventry was seen on every side. All of the delegates and visitors received a cordial welcome and free entertainment. Bounteous dinners were served by the ladies on both days and supper on the first day. The convention opened at 1:45 on Thursday. Greetings were extended by Rev. F. B. Blodgett of the M. E. church. The reports of the county officers showed that faithful work had been done and that good progress had been made in the last year. The president reported that the county is thorough-

Milk Producers Organize.

A large and representative body of Caledonia County farmers gathered at the Avenue house, St. Johnsbury, Saturday afternoon and organized a strong local branch of the Boston Milk Producers' association. Sec. W. A. Hunter, of Worcester, Mass., was present and in an interesting talk outlined the work of the association and explained some of the present day milk problems. All those present joined the B. M. P. A. and took out shares of stock, and several not present were represented and took out shares.

W. Arthur Simpson, of Lyndon, was elected president for the ensuing year, Sam A. Richardson of St. Johnsbury, secretary and treasurer, and H. L. Doyle of West Burke delegate.

Saturday evening Mr. Hunter and Mr. Simpson went to Newport and were successful in getting a large number of members in the Boston Milk Producers' Association, and organized the Orleans County producers in a local branch with S. J. Libby of Newport, president; F. H. Foster of Barton secretary and treasurer and Mr. Foster delegate.
